

FORESTRY

MERIT BADGE DAY 2024

Earn your Forestry merit badge in one day!

Join us at the Grey Towers National Historic Site the ancestral home of Gifford Pinchot, first director of the United States Forest Service (USFS) to earn your Forestry merit badge in a hands-on, educational and fun workshop offered in May 2023.

The forest is your classroom...

With the help of the US Forest Service and other Forest Enthusiasts, Scouts can work to complete the Forestry merit badge requirements, Scouts will explore the remarkable complexity of a forest and identify many species of trees and plants and the roles they play in a forest's life cycle. They will also discover some of the resource's forests provide to humans and come to understand that people have a very large part to play in sustaining the health of forests.

You'll prepare a field notebook, collect and identify forest trees and plants, study the principles of forest management and learn about forestry's many contributions to society and our way of life.

Space will be limited. Register soon to make sure there is a spot reserved for you.
